

Support Resources

No student should ever experience any type of sexual violence. While we hope this never happens, if it does KU has resources to provide support and assistance to those impacted.

If a fellow Jayhawk tells you they have been harmed, we are here to care for them and support you as their friend. Please reach out to one of the resources listed below. You don't have to go through this alone.

Start By Believing

If you are not sure where to start, try these phrases:

"I believe you."

"It wasn't your fault."

"How can I help?"

"Thank you for trusting me with this."

Sexual Assault Prevention & Education Center

Sexual Violence, Intimate Partner Violence, and Stalking (also known as Gender Based Violence) are significant issues on college campuses and in the community.

Sadly, 1 in 5 female, 1 in 16 male, and 1 in 2 trans* experience gender based violence while in college (NSVRC).

The University of Kansas is committed to the education and safety of our students. Through multiple evidence based programs and awareness events, students will become partners in the prevention of gender based violence at KU and develop the skills needed to not only hold peers accountable for harmful actions, but also respond compassionately to those who have been harmed. Information about these programs can be found at www.sapc.ku.edu

The Sexual Assault Prevention and Education Center promotes social change and the elimination of sexual violence through prevention education, inclusive programming and campus wide collaboration.

Think About It

Each year all new, returning, and non-degree seeking students are required to complete an online sexual assault awareness training. Program information is emailed to students.

New content is provided each year and courses are tailored to reflect the needs of students.

Prevention Programs

Five evidence based trainings are available to students as individuals or through selected student organizations.

- Gender Based Violence Recognition and Response
- Jayhawks Give a Flock
- Consent @ KU
- Healthy Relationships workshop
- Sex, Drugs, and Alcohol

Trauma Informed Alternatives are available for all prevention programs.

Awareness Events

Throughout the Academic Year a variety of events are held on the Lawrence and Edwards campuses.

These events include information booths, social norming campaigns, social media posts, awareness materials, and special guest speakers.

A Trauma Sensitive Yoga group is also available at no cost to Jayhawks.

Volunteering

If this is a passion area for you, there are several ways you can get involved.

Peer Educators provide various educational programming and outreach on campus.

Care Sisters work within the Panhellenic system to provide peer advocacy.
